Rose oil and Rose Absolute are natural products obtained from the fresh flowers of the oil-bearing rose Rosa damascena Mill. They contain over 300 components that determine their biologically active action.

They have a tonic, emollient, moisturizing, soothing and antiseptic effect. Rose oil helps to renew cell membranes and regenerate the skin.

It works well on all skin types and is especially useful for drier and more sensitive skin. Helps eliminate redness and inflammation of the skin, protects it from external influences. Rose oil is a proven hypoallergenic.

Sage oil prevents the formation of wrinkles and fine lines around the eyes, strengthens the skin and helps the daily regeneration of cells. Rosehip oil (Rosa canina), one of the best skin care oils, rich in essential fatty acids, antioxidants and nutrients.

Contains vitamin A, which helps to preserve the youth of the skin for a long time, supports cell regeneration, contributes to the increase of collagen and elastin – as a result the skin is firmer, smoother and more elastic.

It also contains vitamins E and C, linoleic and linoleic acid, which further nourish the skin. In addition to regenerative properties, the oil is an excellent moisturizer; penetrates quickly into the skin and does not leave a feeling of being greasy.

Joboba oil has amazing moisturizing properties, is quickly absorbed into the skin, nourishes it and protects it from the adverse effects of the environment, regulates sebum secretion. Suitable for all skin types.

The high content of vitamin E neutralizes free radicals and protects it from the sun, and fatty acids regulate cell function by retaining moisture. Jojoba oil has a strong anti-inflammatory effect.

Used to moisturize even the delicate area around the eyes.

Avocado oil, one of the richest in fat-soluble vitamins A, E and D, vitamin B and Unsaturated Fatty Acids. It easily penetrates and absorbs into the skin, nourishes and moisturizes it.

It has antibacterial and antioxidant properties. Thanks to the rich composition of natural Vit. A, E and B, promotes the formation of collagen and works to improve the appearance and structure of the skin.

It has a good anti-aging effect. Avocado oil restores the lipid balance of the skin due to aging. Also suitable for sensitive skin.

Grape seed oil consists of 70% of essential fatty acids, which are easily absorbed by the skin, combine and retain moisture.

It is one of the most powerful natural antioxidants due to the presence of vitamins such as A, B, C, E, which preserves the radiance of the skin and helps it fight against premature aging caused by external influences.

It has the ability to regulate oiliness and is suitable for oily and combination skin. Tightens but does not clog pores! In violation of the integrity of the skin, helps to quickly restore it.

Apricot oil is rich in oleic and linolenic acids. It has a moisturizing and regenerating effect on the skin. Nourishes the skin and has an anti-aging effect.

Wheat germ oil is extremely nourishing. Very rich in vitamin E, A and D, germ lecithin, minerals, phytosterols, macro- and microelements.

Vitamin E helps supply the cells with oxygen and protects them from harmful substances, slows down the aging of the skin, and lecithin takes care of its freshness and elasticity.
